

THE RECORD · 2011 - 2026

Effective Representation. Visible Impact.

Rt. Hon. (Dr.) James Abiodun Faleke

MEMBER, HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES · IKEJA FEDERAL CONSTITUENCY

A record rooted in the grassroots.

Born on 25 December 1959 in Ekinrin-Adde, Kogi State, Rt. Hon. (Dr.) James Abiodun Faleke built a career in procurement and logistics before public office — Air Liquide PLC, ALUMCO PLC and Crown Agents Ltd, where he was Commercial Manager until 2003.

He holds an HND in Purchasing and Supply Management, an MBA from Kaduna Polytechnic and CIPS professional qualifications. In 2003 he was appointed the first Executive Secretary of Ojodu LCDA by Asiwaju Bola Ahmed Tinubu, and from 2006 to 2011 chaired Conference 57, the umbrella body of Lagos State local government chairmen.

He has represented Ikeja Federal Constituency since 2011 — across the 7th, 8th, 9th and 10th National Assemblies — and chairs the House Committee on Finance. He was Secretary of the APC Presidential Campaign Council in 2023.

His public record has been recognised with the Officer of the Order of the Niger (OON) and an honorary doctorate from the Federal University Lokoja.

BEYOND THE MANIFEST

The constituency's wider programme includes vocational training, direct grants, tuition and medical support, job placements and the Light Up Ikeja solar lighting scheme. More than 14,000 residents have been reached through training, grants and industrial tools since 2011.

Fiscal oversight, on the record.

As Chairman of the House Committee on Finance, Faleke's committee examines the nation's revenue assumptions against the evidence — questioning agencies on projections, collections and remittances, and publishing its hearings.

He previously chaired the Committees on Anti-Corruption and on National Ethics and Values, and served on Public Procurement, the Subsidy Probe and Interior.
